Together for Unity

A continent united in peace and equal rights: this was the goal we wanted to reach after the Second World War. Since then many years have passed. From its creation to our days, European Union has been through various ups and downs. And today we must ask ourselves a question: is that goal really possible? If so, what can we do to achieve it? To make European Union really united?

These are quite complicated questions, that's why we decided to ask them to some distinguished members of our community.

- “I think that European Union and its countries should make a step back” said Magda “and look at the reasons why they actually joined the EU, what they thought about the idea of creating this organization[...]. Because now when we have all different visions of the EU maybe a step back would actually restore our believes, our common goal that we want to reach

. Because right now all of us have so different ideas for the future of Europe, so it will be better to make a step back when we can still connect on certain things and from that we start building the next step of EU”

On the other side, we heard from Giouli that “European Union should teach its members more about each other; because the more you know about your neighbours the more you can feel unified with him or her, it eliminates the xenophobia. As a result, EU will be more united”

“I think the next step for unifying unifying EU should be to find a better way of debating and listen more to the needs of every single country” is what Marianna told us.

“In my opinion” as Simona said “the next step [“to unify EU” e.n.] could be in the countries. Each country should do something to help to keep the unity, because now the countries are kind of excluded.

For example, if Great Britain is going to leave we shouldn't be 'stressed', we should become stronger and take care of us; and the leaders from our countries should give more help to each other to communicate, to do more projects. And I think people should be more open, should earn more information, travel and help each other. This way I think Europe will be stronger and that's going to be the next step for us"

All these opinions were really interesting and, together with what we learned in our discussion, made us understand that the general idea about the future of EU is overall positive, because we can actually make a step forward to the unification of EU.

UNITY™

WORLD TRIP

Is a person's life long enough to learn and see everything in the world? That mortal situation makes the wishes complicated. I had not even talked about working times and childhood. When we remove whole things which restrict the realization of our wishes, quite little time will be obtained. Despite the fact that lots of thing can be fitted into average life if you accept the motto, is true knowledge brings you to achievement in easier way.

Let's take an issue about travelling in short time.

Especially, your trip would be in foreign country, that's enough to say gets harder. First of all, get all documents, applications and tickets which are related with your trip. Pick all informations up by doing that, maps, train stations, coffee shops , museums etc. I took an interview for you my readers a professional who name is Kouli Theodora .

INTERVIEW:

When we regulate as a line.

1. Get all documents for visa applying but be careful every detail should be convincing to go back your country, not stay forever there.

2. Searching your friend's trip plans can make yours easy. Where are the good rest. What is the famous good. Which place has the best view.

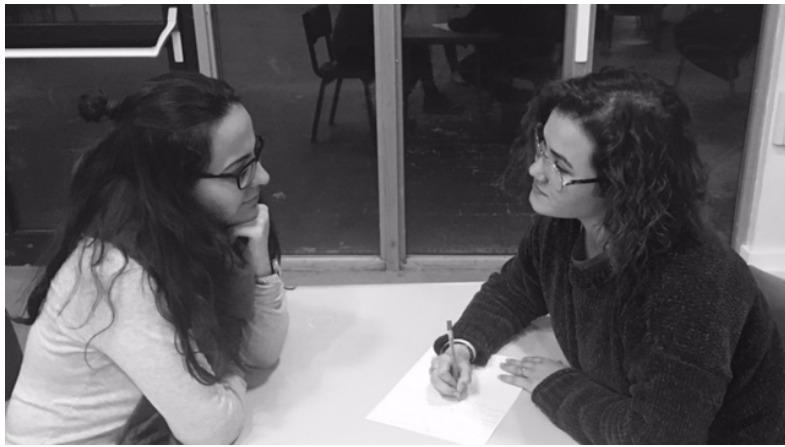

3. I advise you to exchange your money before you left your country as the next country currency. This is also a knowledge to decide your vocation

4. Is your license recognized by your trip country.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE EU

The EU is an organization that concern to the countries who form the EU, and the world too, because the EU has a lot of power for the decision making.

We have interviewed different people and everybody things that if the EU didn't exist the countries would lose benefits. For example; this countries couldn't travel free, or wouldn't have a free market, the citizens couldn't work or study in other different countries, that is, the Erasmus would disappear, and everybody would need a private health insurance.

Also we have to keep in mind that if we were in this situation, the economic and the transport of merchandise would reduce, and this would have more difficult because would create borders between the countries of the EU.

This situation would suppose the increase of citizens' taxes and the decrease of subsidies and helps for the different government also. All this changes between countries could create problems, the signature of new agreements, clashes, etc among countries.

For finally , remember that the EU have more power for making agreement and keeping the balance between the countries, and other point very important is that EU is the principal defending and support for the environment, so that, the world would suffer the change also.
